

The Twenty-Second Conference of Parties (COP22) to the UNFCCC (United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change) begins today, Monday, November 7th, in Marrakech, Morocco, lasting through Friday, November 18th. At the conference this year, Parties will come together to address implementation of the new global agreement to tackle climate change. WEDO is committed to holding governments' feet to the fire and pushing leaders to listen to #WhatWomenWant!

Gender Equality at COP22

What do women want at COP22? The Women and Gender Constituency has published their key demands from world leaders in Marrakech. You can find this and other pre-COP readings to get prepared for the two weeks ahead.

Alongside partners in the Women and Gender Constituency, WEDO will provide strategic and technical support to Parties and stakeholders in the UNFCCC process and advocate for strong inclusion of gender issues within the UNFCCC and its decisions, reports and outcomes, including as part of Gender Day on Tuesday, November 15th.

SOME KEY EVENTS

- The Women and Gender Constituency (WGC) Caucus
Daily, 9:00-10:00am, Room: Mediterranean, WGC
The WGC hosts a daily caucus each morning. This caucus is an open space for all interested individuals to meet and discuss women's rights and gender issues.
- Gender Day
Tuesday, 15 November, all day
Gender Day is arranged by the UNFCCC Secretariat. A number of events are organized for Gender Day in the blue and green zone. Please see here for the official schedule.
- Gender-Just Climate Solutions--Awards Ceremony
Monday, 14 November, 15:00 - 16:30, Room: Arabian, WECF, WGC
The session will examine a feminist vision for a just, peaceful and healthy planet, in the context of the interlocking crises of climate and inequality. Civil society must unite and use our collective power to demand and shape a new and sustainable future, particularly through mobilizing for a global strike.
